CALCUTTA, THE 17TH DECEMBER 1920.

RESOLUTION—No. 3283 Marine.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta for the year 1919-20.

General features of the Administration.—The year under review being the first complete year after the cessation of hostilities has brought about a marked improvement in the condition of the Trust and the trade of the Port as illustrated by the following comparative statistics of traffic :—

	1913-14.	1914-15.	1915-16.	1916-17.	1917-18.	1918-19.	1919-20.

V.—Docks, Coal ...	3,017,180	2,633,805	1,610,645	1,994,528	1,014,993	1,333,285	2,264,976

The figures show that there has been a marked increase under every head in comparison with the figures of the preceding year.

Income.—The total income amounted to Rs. 2,23,55,613 against the revised estimate of Rs. 2,10,04,056 for the year under review and the actuals of Rs. 1,90,58,513 of the preceding year.

Only under one head did the receipts fall slightly below the revised estimate for the year :—

	Actual.	Revised estimate.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Inland Vessels Wharves ...	4,56,732	4,73,220	16,488

The principal increases are under the following heads :—

	Actual.	Revised estimate.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jetties ...	25,83,016	22,53,900	3,29,116
Tea Warehouses ...	4,83,045	3,55,300	1,27,745
Railway ...	19,33,589	17,76,900	1,56,689
River Dues ...	17,87,568	16,32,625	1,54,943
Special War Surcharge ...	64,66,809	62,00,000	2,66,809

Expenditure.—The expenditure on Revenue Account amounted to Rs. 2,25,51,874 as against the revised estimate of Rs. 2,14,26,897 for the year and Rs. 1,84,14,423 the actual expenditure for the previous year.

The actual expenditure appreciably exceeded the revised budget estimate for the year under the following heads :—

	Actual.	Revised estimate.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jetties ...	13,25,994	11,95,201	1,30,793
Port ...	11,18,095	8,84,866	2,33,229
Port Approaches ...	12,25,162	10,07,642	2,17,520
Railway ...	19,00,732	17,43,858	1,56,874
Wet Docks ...	40,75,008	37,97,178	2,77,830

Jetties.—The tonnage handled at the jetties amounted to 713,746 against 574,833 for the year 1918-19, and the total earnings of traffic at the jetties were Rs. 22,44,027 against Rs. 23,91,512 respectively. In spite of improvement in the tonnage handled there was an appreciable decrease in receipts. This was due to the falling off in storage and removal charges.

Docks.—During the year 966 vessels were berthed at the Docks as against 790 in the previous year. The total imports and exports traffic including coal, in tons at the Docks was 653,066 and 3,411,455, respectively, against 482,403 and 2,430,847 of the previous year. The tonnage of imports was the second highest on record, due mainly to the heavy imports of rice and paddy brought about by the failure of the rice crops in many parts of India. The increase in exports over that of the previous year was due mainly to Jute, Tea, Shellac, Cotton and Hides. On the whole the increase in traffic is attributed to more tonnage being available and to the removal of restrictions on exports to foreign countries.

Inland Vessels Wharves, Budge Budge.—There was a slight decrease as compared with the previous year in the earnings of the Inland Vessels Wharves attributed to smaller traffic in rice and jute.

The total number of vessels berthed at Budge Budge was 150 as compared with 114 in 1918-19.

Tea Warehouses.—Stocks were greater than the deliveries and it was necessary to allot accommodation at the Kantapukur Depôt for the storage of teas.

The receipts amounted to Rs. 4,13,413 against Rs. 2,57,585 in the previous year, the increase arising chiefly from storage charges.

Rates and Charges.—During the year the following were the more important changes in rates and charges made by the Commissioners :—

(1) The imposition as a temporary measure from September 1919 to April 1920 of a penal rate of rent on sold teas to expedite deliveries.

(2) The introduction of penal rates of rent on goods landed at or stored at the Heavy Lift Yard at Mullick Ghat.

(3) The introduction of a uniform wharfage charge of annas 10 per ton on all non-dangerous petroleum and its products, landed at the Petroleum Wharf, Budge Budge.

(4) The introduction of a special rate of freight at 20 per cent. higher than the ordinary rates on goods booked over the Commissioners' Railways at Railway risk.

Navigable Channels.—The improvement effected in the river channels was on the whole satisfactory. About Fulta Point a Bar suddenly formed early in June and the crossing showed a depth of 18 feet only in the middle of that month. But a depth of 25 feet was available from July.

Night Navigation.—The gas buoys and boats in the lighted channel between Mud Point and Saugor were maintained in good order. During the cyclone of the 24th September, the Light Vessels "Luna", "Star" and "Hesperus" broke adrift. The "Luna" was replaced within 5½ days and the "Star" and "Hesperus" in 3 days.

Capital Works.—The chief capital works in progress during the year were—

- (a) The river side berths at Garden Reach.
- (b) Reconstruction of No. 3, Calcutta jetty.
- (c) New four-storied Tea Warehouse in Hide Road.
- (d) Reclamation work and land acquisition in connection with the new dock scheme.
- (e) Purchase of the sloop "Pansy" from the Admiralty to replace the Despatch Vessel "Retriever."

Capital Account.—The total liabilities of the Trust on capital account at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 9·84 crores, while the total assets were Rs. 14·16 crores. The difference of Rs. 4·32 crores is the largest on record.

General.—Mr. T. J. McCloughin, Traffic Manager, officiated as Vice-Chairman during the absence on leave of Mr. S. C. Stuart-Williams from the commencement of the year to the 6th November 1919.

The Governor in Council desires to thank the Chairman, Sir Charles Stevenson-Moore, K.C.I.E., C.V.O., I.C.S., the officiating Vice-Chairman, Mr. T. J. McCloughin, and the Vice-Chairman, Mr. S. C. Stuart-Williams for their successful administration of the Trust.

By order of the Governor in Council,

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal, 1920-21.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 6·3 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—As reported in the first forecast, the weather was generally favourable for sowings in the Eastern and Northern districts, but in some western districts, it was somewhat less so. During the period of growth, lack of soil moisture was felt in a few districts in the early part, but good rainfall in the latter part generally improved the situation. Just at the time of harvesting, the crops suffered in most districts of Eastern and Northern Bengal from excessive rainfall and floods whereby the outturn was reduced. In West Bengal, no appreciable damage was done except by floods in Midnapore and a good outturn was reaped in these tracts. On the whole, the season was favourable in Western Bengal and generally fair in the rest of the province.

Acreage.—The total area sown with the different bhadoi crops this year is reported to be 5,935,100 acres as against 5,814,100 acres last year (now revised). Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 5,109,300 acres this year as against 4,961,600 acres in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—According to the district officers' estimates, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops for the province works out to 86 per cent. of the normal against 85 per cent. reported in the final forecast of the last year. Autumn rice, the most important of the bhadoi crops, shows an outturn of 86 per cent. for the province this year against 87 per cent. of last year.

Autumn rice.—Accepting 86 per cent. as the outturn of autumn rice this year, the gross outturn of the crop for the province, on the basis of a normal yield of  $10\frac{1}{2}$  maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 1,694,800 tons against 1,665,000 tons of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1920-21.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 19·7 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—As reported in the first forecast, the rainfall in February and March was sufficient for the preparatory tillage for broadcast paddy. Consequently, adequate moisture was left in the soil and the sowing operations proceeded satisfactorily, especially in the eastern districts during the months of April and May where a full area was sown with this variety. In portions of West Bengal, however, sowings finished as late as June. Defective rainfall in June and July hampered transplanting, especially in the high lands of northern and western districts, but this was accelerated by the good rainfall received in August and in the early part of September. Heavy rainfall in September and October, however, damaged the crop to some extent in certain low lands of North and East Bengal, but on the other hand, this was highly beneficial to the late transplanted paddy. On the whole, the season was good for the broadcast and fair for the transplanted crops.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates, the total area under winter rice amounts to 15,394,700 acres as against 15,319,500 acres in the first forecast of this year as against 15,551,400 and 15,606,100 acres in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year. The increase of 75,200 acres over the first forecast was due to sufficient rainfall in August and September.

Outturn.—From the district returns appended, it will be seen that the district of Dacca returns more than a normal (i.e., 110 per cent.), the districts of Howrah, Bakarganj, Chittagong and Noakhali return a normal crop and seventeen districts report a crop varying between 75 and 92 per cent. The remaining five districts (viz., Nadia, Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Malda and the Chittagong Hill Tracts) report a crop as low as between 58 and 67 per cent. As compared with the first forecast, the crop has improved in twelve districts, deteriorated in seven districts and remained unchanged in the remaining eight.

According to the estimate of the District Officers, the outturn for the whole Province works out to 87 per cent. But in consideration of the favourable weather conditions during the months of September and October and of the under-estimates in some districts, I am of opinion that the crop will not be less than 90 per cent. of the normal. Accepting 90 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the cleaned winter rice crop for the Province, on the basis of a normal yield of 12½ maunds per acre, is estimated at 6,362,100 tons against 6,426,900 and 6,449,500 tons in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

APPENDIX I

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1920-21.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		The date by which the harvest generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1919-20).	This year (1920-21).	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	1,041,500	825,100	813,900	92	83	November. Normal ...	The weather has been fairly favourable on the whole. The crop suffered from drought at the early stage which has affected the outturn.
Nadia ...	126,800	130,100	159,900	67	67	Not yet commenced ...	The decrease in area as compared with the first forecast is due to want of rain which prevented the transplantation and also damaged paddy in a considerable area. Since the submission of the first forecast, the weather has been fair. The outturn is below the normal owing to want of timely rain.
Murshidabad ...	351,400	318,700	293,500	83	67	Ditto ...	The increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to subsequent transplantation, but the decrease in area as compared with last year is due to untimely and late rain. The weather has not been favourable on the whole. Late and untimely rain in the beginning and continued drought later on affected the growth of the crop and caused damage to the extent of 33 per cent.
Jessore ...	548,100	455,500	480,100	83	75	November. Normal ...	The weather has not been very favourable. About 33 per cent. of the crop was damaged by flood in the Narail subdivision and by want of timely rain in other parts of the district.
Khulna ...	828,300	702,900	710,500	83	92	First week of November. Normal.	The weather has been favourable and the growth of the crop good. The damage to the crop is reported from police-station Paikgacha, Asansol and Jala for want of timely rain and to influx of saline water.
Burdwan ...	874,800	725,000	677,700	75	83	End of November. Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with last year is due to late rainfall in places. The prospects of the crop improved later on. Some damage has been done by drought in Asansol subdivision. Insufficient rain and drought account for the fall in outturn below the normal.
Birbhum ...	604,600	601,500	563,000	92	75	Not yet commenced ...	The weather has not been very favourable. Want of sufficient rainfall accounts for the fall in outturn.
Bankura ...	510,400	525,000	525,000	125	83	Last week of October. Normal.	The weather was not favourable. Insufficient rainfall in September and October affected the growth of the crop and caused damage to the extent of about 17 per cent.
Midnapore ...	1,537,100	1,549,200	1,617,400	83	85	Not yet commenced ...	The decrease in area as compared with the first forecast is due mainly to revision of estimates for the Contai subdivision. The weather has been fair. There has been slight damage owing to floods throughout the district.
Hooghly ...	276,700	306,400	309,300	70	88	Ditto	The crop at first suffered much for want of sufficient rainfall but afterwards there was adequate rainfall which improved its condition. Slight damage by flood has been reported from the Arambagh subdivision and in the Sadar subdivision the crop suffered for want of rain.
Howrah ...	125,300	119,500	119,700	83	100	Ditto	The increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to further transplantation on land where jute was cut. The weather has been favourable on the whole. The damage done by flood has been made good by retransplantation. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Rajshahi ...	822,700	656,300	630,000	92	75	Ditto	Owing to want of timely rain, transplantation was delayed and many fields were left uncultivated. Before the plants could sufficiently take root, they went under water owing to floods in September in the Naogaon subdivision. Hence the decrease in outturn. The weather has been fair since the submission of the first forecast.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	1,022,000	819,400	80	68	Ditto	The increase in area as compared with the first forecast is due to sufficient rain and favourable weather since the submission of the first forecast, but some damage was done by flood in September. On the whole the weather has not been favourable. The outturn is expected to fall much below the normal owing to want of timely rainfall.

District.	Estimated normal area under winter rice.	Estimated area under winter rice.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Date by which the harvesting generally commenced this year, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
		Last year (1919-20).	This year (1920-21).	Last year.	This year.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Jalpaiguri ...	467,400*	417,500	434,600	76	83	Not yet commenced ...	The weather has been favourable since the submission of the first forecast. For want of timely rain, the outturn is below the normal.
Dajeling ...	66,200	2,600	21,800	100	92	November. Normal ...	The increase in area is reported from the Silliguri subdivision. The weather has been fair since the submission of the first forecast. In the Kalimpong subdivision, about 30 per cent. of the crop has been damaged by drought.
Rangpur ...	822,300	604,000	581,400	75	81†	Not yet commenced ...	The decrease in area as compared with last year is due to scanty rainfall during sowing season. Sufficient rainfall in September and October caused a little increase in area over that shown in the first forecast. The weather has been favourable since the submission of the first forecast. Slight damage was caused by heavy rain in the middle of September.
Bogra ...	303,000	447,000	445,000	90	80	End of November ...	The weather since the submission of the first forecast was favourable, but for the flood in the latter part of September, the outturn would have been much better.
Pabna ...	566,000	582,500	401,600	80	83	First week of November. Normal.	The weather at the beginning was not favourable for want of timely rainfall, but subsequent rainfall improved the growth of the crop. About two annas of the crop was damaged by continued drought. The present prospects are promising.
Mulda ...	326,200	303,000	298,300	117	58	Latter part of November.	The decrease in area as compared with last year was due to want of rain at sowing time. The weather was not favourable till the latter part of August owing to continuance of rainfall which retarded the transplantation and growth of the crop. About two annas was damaged by flood in the northern part of the district after the submission of the first forecast. Want of timely rain accounts for the low outturn.
Dacca ...	647,900	656,300	665,300	95	110	Beginning of November.	The increase in area is due to fall in jute market and to rise in the price of food-stuffs. The weather has been favourable and the growth of the crop good. The outturn is expected to be above the normal.
Mymensingh ...	1,176,700	1,63,700	989,700	92	90	Not yet commenced ...	The weather has been generally favourable and the growth of the crop fair. Slight damage is reported from the Kishoreganj subdivision owing to flood. The outturn is expected to be a little below the normal.
Faizpur ...	770,100	734,100	743,200	68	92	By the end of October. Normal.	The weather has been favourable on the whole, but excessive rain and drought caused a little damage to the crop.
Bakarganj ...	1,200,000	1,342,500	1,345,100	125	100	November. Normal ...	The weather has been favourable. Insufficient rain in July and August retarded the growth of the crop at the beginning, but subsequently the weather has been favourable. The condition of the crop in the lowlying lands and char lands is rather good but the crop on high land is not fair. On the whole, however, a normal outturn is expected.
Chittagong ...	418,400	420,600	421,300	92	110	November and December.	The weather has been reasonable and the growth of the crop fair. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Tippur ...	787,000*	876,500	787,000	92	82	November. Normal ...	The weather has been favourable since the submission of the first forecast. Some damage was done by drought. The outturn is expected to be below the normal owing to want of rain since the latter part of October.
Noakhali ...	640,000	600,000	630,000	86	100	Early in November. Normal.	The weather was fair, except at the latter part of the season when heavy rain adversely affected the growth of the crop. The effects of the weather on the whole have been favourable. The crop was damaged slightly in the first part of October. The outturn is anticipated to be normal this year.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,500	46,000	45,000	55	56	Not yet commenced,	The decrease in area this year is due to unfavourable weather and insufficient rainfall.
Total Bengal ...	16,952,700	18,600,100	18,391,700	80†	90†

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1920-21.

[Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented 5.5 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 19.4 per cent. of the total areas under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present one deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in the Rajshahi, Dacca and the Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions the cultivation is small. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is returned as 1,219,500 acres this year against 1,280,000 and 1,265,800 acres, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—The rainfall in September was heavy in Eastern and Northern Bengal, while in Western Bengal the fall was slightly in defect. The preparatory tillage for the crops began at the normal time, but owing to heavy rainfall in October and consequently excessive moisture in the soil the sowings have generally been delayed. As a result the acreage under the crops is expected to show a decrease, especially in Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri and in most parts of the Presidency Division. Dry weather since then has proved favourable and the present condition is reported to be fair.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Winter Til (Sesamum) Crop of Bengal, 1920-21.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under til in Bengal has represented about 5.0 per cent. of the total area under til in British India.)

Character of the season.—The rainfall in August was generally moderate and was favourable for sowings which began at the normal time. Subsequently, during the months of September and October, excessive rain and floods interfered with the growth of the crop to some extent and caused damage in parts of the Rajshahi Division. The crop recovered somewhat from the effects of the wet weather during the dry spell that followed but continued drought has since affected the growth, and the outturn, in consequence, has been adversely affected more especially in parts of Nadia, Hooghly, Tippera and the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Injury by insect-pests is also reported from parts of Nadia and Malda. On the whole, the season has not been favourable for the crop.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year is estimated at 43,900 acres against 42,600 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to estimates of District Officers the outturn of the crop for the province, as a whole, works out at 69 per cent. of the normal against 68 per cent. last year. Taking  $6\frac{1}{2}$  maunds as the normal rate of yield per acre, the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 6,800 tons against 6,500 tons last year.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1920.

I. Character of the Season.—The month was practically rainless. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of Agricultural Operations.—Reaping of winter paddy continued under favourable weather conditions. Due to excessive soil moisture in October the progress of the sowing of spring crops during the month could not proceed favourably. Consequently less area is likely to be sown.

III. State of Standing Crops.—The condition and prospects of the spring crops were generally reported to be fair and those of sugarcane fairly good.

IV. Prospects and Probable Outturn.—The outlook of spring crops, so far, was generally reported to be hopeful but some moisture is required now to improve their prospects. A fair outturn of winter paddy is anticipated from the high land tracts and a satisfactory one from the low lying tracts.

V. Damage to Standing Crops.—No appreciable damage was reported excepting in parts of Tippera district where some injury to winter paddy was caused by insect pests.

VI. Condition of Agricultural Stock.—The condition of live-stock was reported to be satisfactory on the whole. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease, however, were reported from nine districts.

VII. Failure of Pasturage and Fodder.—The supply of fodder and water was reported to be sufficient throughout the Presidency.

VIII. Prices of Food-grains.—During the second-half of the month under report the price of common rice of the cheapest quality fell in eighteen districts and remained stationary in the rest. It ranged from 4½ seers a rupee in Darjeeling to 8 seers a rupee in Tippera, Birbhum and Jessore.

IX. Condition of Agricultural People.—The condition of the agricultural population is slightly improving with the gradual falling off in the price of rice.

APPLICATIONS are invited for a scholarship to be granted by the Government of India for the training of an Indian student in architecture.

2. The scholarship will be of Rs. 100 a month for the first, Rs. 125 for the second and Rs. 150 for the third year; should it be extended beyond the third year, it will remain at Rs. 150.

3. The scholarship will be granted for architectural training at the office of the Consulting Architect to the Government of Bombay (where the scholar will also attend the architectural classes at the Sir J. J. School of Art), and subsequently in the Archaeological Department. Provided that the scholar shows special aptitude for archaeological work his scholarship, which, in the first instance, will be given for one year only, may be extended to two or more years, according to the discretion of the Director-General of Archaeology.

4. Ordinarily the candidate for a scholarship must have taken the B. A. or other equivalent degree in an Indian University, but these qualifications may be dispensed with in an exceptional case. He must produce a medical certificate of physical fitness to undergo the proposed courses of study at Bombay.

5. The final selection of the candidate will rest with the Government of India, but a nomination will be made by the Government of Bengal.

6. The candidate when selected will have to proceed to Bombay and report himself to the Consulting Architect to the Government of Bombay, and his scholarship will be payable from the date of the report of his arrival in Bombay.

8. Although no guarantee can be given as to the employment of an ex-scholar in Government service, Government is anxious to secure promising Indian recruits for the Archaeological Department, and should a scholar prove himself capable of good work, there is every prospect that he will find an opening in this Department. Applications should reach the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, not later than the 15th of January 1921.

THE recommendations of the Public Services Commission and of the Medical Services Committee on the subject of the pay of Civil Assistant Surgeons have for some time past been under the consideration of the Government of India and of the local Governments. The sanction of the Secretary of State for India to a revision of the pay of these officers has now been received, and the local Government has been authorised to fix new scales, subject to the limits sanctioned by the Secretary of State. After careful consideration, the Governor in Council has decided to adopt the following revised scales of pay. The existing scales are also shown for purposes of comparison :—

		Selection grade for Assistant Surgeons appointed to be Civil Surgeons	1,000

Until further orders, the passing of departmental examinations after 7 and 14 years of service will continue, as at present, to be a condition precedent to the drawing of further increments.

2. Temporary Civil Assistant Surgeons will in future draw the same pay, viz., Rs. 150 per mensem, as probationers. The pay of Assistant Surgeons appointed to officiate as Civil Surgeons will continue to be regulated by article 142 of the Civil Service Regulations as at present. The selection grade is limited to 25 per cent. of Civil Surgeoncies reserved for Military and Civil Assistant Surgeons taken together. There being 12 Civil Surgeoncies at present available in this Presidency for both these classes of officers, there will be three posts in the selection grade, one of which will be reserved for Military Assistant Surgeons and two for Civil Assistant Surgeons.

3. The officers at present in service will be permitted to count the whole of their service towards the new time-scale, and the various allowances at present drawn by them in addition to their grade pay will continue to be drawn by them in addition to the new scale of pay.

4. These orders will have effect from 3rd September 1920.

5. Contributions are at present realised from local bodies for the services of Assistant Surgeons lent to them at the rate of Rs. 290 per mensem in the case of local fund dispensaries to which Assistant Surgeons were lent before the 1st August 1913, and at the rate of Rs. 280 per mensem in other cases. In consequence of the increase of pay of Assistant Surgeons now sanctioned, these rates will require revision. Orders on the subject will be issued separately.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. MARR,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SANITARY AND VACCINATION REPORTS, BENGAL.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Sanitation Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 27TH DECEMBER 1920.

RESOLUTION—No. 1355San.

READ—

The reports of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Sanitary Board and the Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, for the year 1919.

READ ALSO—

The eleventh triennial report on vaccination in Bengal for the years 1917-18, 1918-19 and 1919-20.

1. General results—Birth-rate.—During the year 1919 the number of recorded deaths in Bengal exceeded the number of recorded births by 396,000, or 8·7 per mille of the population. The birth-rate was only 27·5 per mille, the lowest returned since 1892 : it was 5·4 per mille less than the ratio of 1918 and 5·3 per mille less than the average for the preceding five years. Every district showed a reduction in the birth-rate, and only one province in India returned a lower ratio, viz., Madras, where it was 25·5 per mille. The decrease is attributed by the Sanitary Commissioner to economic pressure resulting from the poor harvest of 1918, combined with the effect of high prices, the prevalence of influenza and the consequent excessive mortality which occurred in the latter part of 1918 and the earlier months of 1919.

2. Death-rate.—The number of deaths was 226,000 above the quinquennial average, though it fell short of the previous year's figure by 86,000. The death-rate represented 36·2 per mille of the population and was higher than in any year since 1905 with the exception of 1918 ; it was, however, less than that returned by four other provinces in India. The heavy mortality of the year was the aftermath of the influenza epidemic of 1918 and was enhanced by virulent and widespread epidemics of cholera and small-pox. In the opinion of the Sanitary Commissioner it is difficult to trace any marked correlation between the range of prices and the mortality in Bengal, the increased prices of food-grains, though they bear heavily on certain classes of the community, tending, in the presence of reasonably good harvests, to benefit a large proportion of the population ; but such a correlation is observable in the case of crop outturns and mortality, deficient harvests being almost invariably followed by an increased number of deaths.

The highest mortality in the towns of Bengal was returned by Howrah, where the death-rate was 55·1 per mille. It was closely followed by Barnagore with 54·8, of which over 20 per cent. was due to cholera, dysentery and diarrhoea. The Sanitary Commissioner remarks that it is significant that over 40 per cent. of the total mortality in the latter town should have been due to easily preventible water-borne diseases of this nature, while over 14 per cent. of the mortality was due to small-pox, another easily preventible disease.

3. Infant mortality.—The number of deaths amongst infants declined by 55,000, but owing to the fall in the aggregate of births the actual ratio of infantile mortality was nearly exactly the same as in 1918. A large and representative committee was appointed by the Governor in Council in May 1919 to advise upon measures to reduce infantile mortality and promote child welfare, and its final report is awaited.

4. Cholera.—The mortality from cholera aggregated 125,000, a figure which has only once been exceeded in the last 10 years. Only one of the 116 municipalities and only 4 out of 498 registration circles were immune from the disease. The high mortality was caused by the conditions which commenced in the cold weather of 1918, viz., short rainfall in October, the early cessation of the rains and the consequent deficiency of crops. These factors led to increased emigration, the effect of which was seen in the heavy incidence of cholera at centres where cool labourers halted on their way to Assam and the Duars, and the manner in which infection spread along the river and railway routes. It is probable also that a considerable proportion of the enhanced mortality in the Burdwan and Presidency divisions was indirectly due to infection from pilgrims returning from Saugor Island, where there was an outbreak in January 1919.

The Governor in Council is pleased to notice that, in the opinion of the Sanitary Commissioner, although many local authorities are still very apathetic and slow to accept responsibility in regard to the prevention of cholera, there is evidence that they are gradually waking up to the importance of taking steps to investigate the cause of local outbreaks with a view to applying the simple means necessary for preventing the spread of infection. Action is, however, only too often belated, little or nothing being done to disinfect wells and tanks till cholera has become widespread. The Sanitary Commissioner rightly complains of the absence of concerted and systematic preventive measures and remarks :—"Cholera was reported from no less than 15,876 villages in the province, but only a few advanced districts, such as Burdwan, have as yet made any attempt to deal with this scourge of village life, and as a consequence of this neglect, every year sees many thousands of lives needlessly sacrificed and enormous economic loss occasioned to the province."

5. Small-pox.—Deaths from small-pox rose above the high figure of 33,000 recorded in 1915 and aggregated 37,000. Its ravages were general, but compared with last year a smaller number of children under 10 were attacked, and the enhanced mortality was chiefly among adults. In several mofussil towns it was found that the disease was imported from Calcutta and spread first among the sweepers, a class specially prejudiced against vaccination, and from them to the townspeople at large.

6. Vaccination.—Vaccination was stimulated by the prevalence of small-pox and by the efforts of the Sanitary Department to popularize preventive measures. Early in the season warnings were issued that an epidemic was likely to occur; illustrated leaflets and posters were circulated widely, which appear to have had a good effect; and local authorities and officers were urged to push on vaccination vigorously. The result was that the number of vaccinations increased by nearly 80 per cent, rising from 1,785,000 to 3,187,000. Free vaccination was introduced, at the cost of the District Boards, in Birbhum and Howrah and in the Patuakhali subdivision of the Bakarganj district. It was also continued in the districts of Burdwan, the 24-Parganas and Jalpaiguri as well as in certain thanas of Bogra and Malda. Several District Boards employed paid vaccinators, and this system proved successful wherever it was adopted.

7. Fever.—The mortality from fever, always high in Bengal, was 1,229,000, or 27·1 per mille, which was 2·9 per mille less than the rate recorded in the previous year. The effect of influenza, many of the deaths from which were returned under this head, is reflected in the returns. The mortality was especially heavy in the first six months, when also influenza was raging, fell in July and, after a slight rise in August, declined steadily each month.

8. Anti-malarial measures.—The four anti-malarial schemes, of which an account was given in last year's resolution, came into full operation and the results are reported to have been distinctly encouraging. Work was started on the Nawi-Sunthi and Jabuna schemes, two large drainage schemes of which the object is to resuscitate dead or dying rivers. Twenty-four municipalities having reported that they had undertaken special anti-malarial measures on lines laid down by the Sanitary Commissioner, a special enquiry was made to test the results. It was ascertained that with three exceptions (Birnagar, Panihati and Tangail) little or nothing had been attempted, and that very few of the municipal boards concerned had made any budget provision for anti-malarial work. In many of the towns moreover, the incidence of malaria was found to be so small that special measures were not really required. The special Deputy Sanitary Commissioner was, however, able to advise others as to the measures suitable to local conditions. These facts are significant of the need for local authorities enlisting the help of the Sanitary Department and having a malarial survey made before incurring expenditure. Malarial surveys were made in 276 villages, 4 collieries and one tea-garden in addition to these 24 municipalities. In spite of the increase of the price of quinine treatments effected in 1918, the issues rose by 27 per cent. Altogether 9,000 lbs of quinine were sold in this way to retail purchasers, besides which about 1,200 lbs of quinine in tablet form was issued by Government for free distribution among the poor by District Boards, municipalities and officers of the Sanitary Department.

9. Influenza.—The influenza epidemic of 1918 continued during the first half of the year, though in a less virulent form. Owing to deaths from it being largely ascribed to fever, it is impossible to gauge with complete accuracy the actual mortality, but the Sanitary Commissioner estimates that the total number of deaths in 1919 may be roughly taken at 200,000; and that the epidemic took a toll of nearly 600,000 lives in the two years. The incidence of the disease was far from uniform. The Burdwan and Birbhum districts appear to have suffered most severely, each probably losing an aggregate of 3 per cent. of their population during the two years; Bankura, Nadia and Murshidabad each lost 2½ per cent. of their population; in Hooghly, Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Midnapore and Chittagong the deaths represent a loss of from 1·5 to 1·8 per cent.; in Noakhali, Malda, Mymensingh, Pabna and Tippera the loss is rather over one per cent.; in Dacca, Rajshahi and Khulna it is rather less than one per cent.; in Howrah, 24-Parganas and Dinajpur it is about 7 per cent.; in Rangpur about 6 per cent.; in Bogra about 5 per cent.; and in Jessore and Faridpur between 3 and 4 per cent. only.

10. Special enquiries.—A resolution on the progress of anti-hookworm campaign was published on 31st May 1920, and it will be sufficient to state here that valuable investigation work has been done, knowledge of the disease and of its effects has been disseminated, and progress has been made in establishing centres for diagnosis and treatment. An investigation into the extent and causes of pollution of the water of the river Hooghly was commenced and a special enquiry was made into the prevalence of kala azar in the districts of Dacca and Mymensingh. In the Tangail subdivision in the Mymensingh district, it appears that there is a high rate of kala azar infection, and the District Board has been urged to start a campaign against the disease on systematic lines. In the Dacca district the result of the enquiry is to show that a severe stage of infection has not yet been reached, and it rests with the District Board to make a thorough survey of infected areas and to arrange for treatment, which should not only prevent the further spread of the disease but be effectual in eradicating it from the district.

11. Asansol Mines Board of Health.—The Governor in Council desires to acknowledge the continued good work done by the Asansol Mines Board of Health, of the beneficial effects of which two instances may be mentioned. The ratio of infant mortality in the area under its jurisdiction was only 140 per mille compared with the rate of 342 in the district as a whole and the provincial rate of 228 : this satisfactory result is ascribed to the fact that the Board of Health employs a staff of trained midwives, who not only render gratuitous assistance to women during confinement but also act as health visitors. The effect of the efficient system of vaccination and revaccination in force is apparent from the fact that there were only 14 deaths from small-pox, all imported, and that there were only 200 local cases, none of which proved fatal.

12. Sanitary Engineering.—Altogether 14 schemes of water-supply, sewerage and anti-malarial drainage were in course of construction during the year under the control of the Sanitary Engineer; six of these were completed, while the expenditure on new construction work amounted to four lakhs of rupees. The progress of work was impeded by several unavoidable causes. The rise in the cost of materials necessitated revision of the estimates and a consequent re-examination of the financial basis of the schemes; variations in rates of exchange and labour difficulties in England interfered with tenders for machinery and other materials, and after the acceptance of tenders there was uncertainty about delivery and delay in the fulfilment of contracts.

The growing realization of the importance of industrial housing in large labour centres congregated near the mills is evinced by the munificent contribution of 18½ lakhs, which has been made by the jute mill companies having mills along the Hooghly for schemes of sanitation in mill towns. Projects were prepared during the year under review for the sewerage of Titagarh, Naihati, Bhatpara, Kamarhati, Bhadreswar and Champdany, and for a town-planning scheme at Bhatpara, as well as for the improvement of its water-supply.

13. Water-supply.—Of late years the District Boards have given greater attention to the question of improving the sources of rural water-supply, and in the year under report over 6½ lakhs of rupees were spent on the construction of new tanks and wells in rural areas and over Rs. 68,000 on the upkeep of the existing sources of supply. The Governor in Council cordially appreciates the efforts of the District Boards in this direction, but doubts their sagacity in financing capital works of this nature from revenue. The Sanitary Commissioner himself points out in this connection that the practice of devoting a large portion of general revenue to items of capital expenditure, which might legitimately be met from loans, is seriously crippling the public health work of District Boards and preventing them from undertaking proper measures for the suppression of such epidemic diseases as cholera, which require a sufficiently numerous staff of suitably trained subordinates.

14. Staff.—The year under review witnessed a rapid expansion of the work of the Sanitary Department, the burden of which fell largely on the Sanitary Commissioner, Dr. Bentley. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Dr. Bentley for his devotion to duty and the untiring zeal and indefatigable energy with which he discharged the responsibilities of his office. The Governor in Council desires to express his appreciation of the efficient management of the sanitary engineering branch of the Department by Mr. G. B. Williams, and, on his proceeding on leave, by Mr. F. C. Griffin. He also desires to thank the Sanitary Board for the assistance which they rendered Government in advising on the schemes submitted by local bodies.
